11th International Leibniz Congress

„Le present est plein de l’avenir, et chargé du passé“.

31st July–4th August 2023, Leibniz Universität Hannover
Welfengarten 1, 30167 Hannover, Germany

Second circular

Dear participants,

Thank you for your interest in the 11th International Leibniz Congress. Your proposal for a talk has been accepted. Please e-mail us the text of your talk as a Word document (*.doc or *.docx) and as a PDF file by April 30th, 2023. Author guidelines can be found enclosed and on the homepage of the congress: Richtlinien/Guidelines/Directives.

Acceptance of your talk offer does not mean that your travel expenses will be covered. All speakers are requested to first apply to their home institutions or other institutions for travel and subsistence allowances. In exceptional cases, we can provide subsidies to your costs and ask you (if you have not already done so) to contact us by 30th April 2023.

Under the link Programm/Program/Programme you will find our preliminary program. Please check whether your details (name, location, title of talk) are correct.

If you have any questions about our doctoral school, please contact Prof. Dr. Michael Kempe (michael.kempe@gwlb.de). Further information can be found under the following link:

<http://www.gottfried-wilhelm-leibniz-gesellschaft.de/de/3rd-international-school-for-phd-candidates-doctoral-school-researching-leibniz.html>.

The congress will begin on the morning of 31st July 2023; the lectures will end in the late afternoon of 4th August 2023. On 5th August 2023, there will be an excursion to the Harz Mountains and a guided tour through the Herrenhausen Gardens.

You have 20 minutes for your talk, 10 minutes are allotted for the discussion. The congress languages are German, English and French. The conference fee is 60 euros (reduced fee for students and students: 30 euros). The price of the reader is included in the conference fee.

We kindly ask you to organise your accommodation yourself. For more information, see: <https://www.visit-hannover.com/en/Accommodation-Arrangements/Hotels,-Flats-and-B-Bs>.

As part of the congress, we are preparing an address list of the participants, to be published in the congress program. Please make sure that your complete address (with email address) is available to us when you submit your text. If you do not agree to the inclusion of your address, please let us know.

Further explanations for how the congress will proceed will follow in a third circular. Please also inform yourselves on the Internet: English version.

Please send inquiries to: kongress@leibnizgesellschaft.de
